WHAT WE DO:

i. Physical Security Assessment

An independent evaluation of your present security program. Identification of key assets and security risks, analysis of your existing security procedures and systems, and development of recommendations for cost-effective ways in which security at your facility can be improved.

ii. Security Policies & Procedures

Development of comprehensive written security policies and procedures for your company or organization. Whether you are starting completely from scratch, or already have security policies and procedures that just need fine-tuning or updating, we can help.

iii. Security Planning

Planning of physical and electronic security systems for your facility. Working closely with your facilities staff and/or architect, we help you to design buildings that are safe and can be cost-effectively managed from a security perspective.

iv. Security RFP Preparation

Preparation of RFP (Request-For-Proposal/Bid Document) documents to enable the competitive procurement of security systems, guard services and other security-related products and

v. Security Design Standards

For companies that have ongoing design and construction projects in multiple locations, we develop security design standards that can be used to assure consistency between facilities. Design standards are typically given to architects and engineers to provide guidance on how security features are to be incorporated into the design of the building.

vi. Security Proposal Review

Assistance with the review of bid proposals from security system equipment manufacturers, systems integrators and guard companies. Provide help with the analysis of pricing and technical capabilities and offer independent recommendations for vendor selection.

vii. Security Training

Develop training programs and conduct security awareness training for employees and managers. Provide specialized training to facility managers, security systems administrators, HR professionals and in-house maintenance technicians.

viii. Security Design Review

Review of architectural, engineering and construction documents prior to construction to see that all security requirements have been properly included in the design.
